

CHAMBER DECIDES TO ASSIST CITY

Injunction Proceedings Will Be Fought to the Last Ditch

HOLLAND FOR BONDS

Pioneer Grocer Says That He Withdrew Opposition When Trammel Reported

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce expect to assist the city in its attempt to prevent the issuance of a permanent injunction tying up the Spavinaw bond issue, a petition for which was filed by District Judge Albert C. Hunt Thursday by N. H. Davis, 1624 East Second street.

At the weekly meeting of directors of the chamber of commerce, Dr. J. G. Davis made a motion which was passed unanimously, which provided that the Chamber of Commerce co-operate with the city in its fight and if necessary provide an additional attorney to help City Attorney Frank E. Duncan and others whose legal talents may be used in the hearing on March 12.

Among other developments following the filing of this suit by Davis was the issuance of a statement by C. L. Holland, member of the Taxpayers League, who opposed the first Spavinaw bond issue but who declared his opposition to the project was over when Governor Trammel and W. H. Holland discovered the water could be brought to Tulsa by gravity.

Holland's statement is headed "A statement concerning the suit filed against the Spavinaw water bonds," and reads as follows:

"My name is being used as one of the parties who filed the suit filed yesterday against the Spavinaw water bonds. I desire to state that my objections to this Spavinaw project were overcome when the engineers found that water could be brought in here by gravity."

"I favored the $6,000,000 bond election last fall and last night my friends told me it carried by an overwhelming majority and I now favor building this system as quickly as possible. One of the reasons why I favored it was because we had a large number of idle laborers in Tulsa who need work. If Tulsa is to go forward they must be kept employed."

"Let me spend this money now to tide over these hard times."
